

Press Release

Jan 15th 2009

Hydroxy Technologies Corporation is proud to announce its new Direct Drop-Ship (DDS) service. The DDS service which is now available to our world-wide distribution network allows a more homogenous streamlined delivery path. By partnering with 24SEVEN LLC, Hydroxy Technologies has access to 4 new deconsolidation and distribution warehouse facilities in key portals within the United States. Existing hubs are located in Texas, Nevada and New-York with a further expansion planned for later in 2009. This new warehouse and distribution facilities will mean not only lower shipping rates but faster delivery times and more personal service filtering right down to the end-user. Please contact Hydroxy Technologies Corporation directly for more information on how to take part of this great initiative.
